My friends and I went on vacation last month, but this time we didn't stay at a fancy hotel. We decided to hire a car and travel around the country. We looked for places on the way just to spend the night, and very early in the morning, we took the road again. It was awesome! We saw some beautiful landscapes and bought some cool souvenirs along the journey. The only bad part is that my friend lost her cell phone, and because of that, we had to come back home. However, when we arrived home, she found it in one of the suitcases! I couldn't believe it! I was so angry at her... but anyway, it was a fun trip and I hope we do it again some other time.

How about you? Did you ever go on a road trip?
